Global Recruitment x Business Expansion

CASE STUDY

HEALTH TECH

Let's Go Global,
Together!

OVERVIEW

Our client is a US-based health tech company founded on the belief that enhanced real-time visualization combined with on-line adapting and accurate dose recording will significantly improve the safety and efficacy of radiation therapy, leading to better outcomes for patients.

Our client currently holds the exclusive worldwide license for its combination of MRI and radiation therapy technologies.

CHALLENGE

Our client needed close to 30 placements in countries spread across the world. Their needs in Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, UK, USA, Korea, and other parts of Asia called for Field Service Engineers, each resource needing to be 30 minutes from the hospital.

RESULTS

- ✓ reesmarxGLOBAL helped our client build a global team of locals who could fit well in a Silicon valley medical tech startup.
- ✓ Our client received help understanding how to employ, recruit, deal, and hire in varying countries around the globe, advancing their international stronghold.
